MANIFESTO

Communities are built on shared culture.

Creativity is our common ground. Music is in our blood, dance in our DNA, storytelling is our shared language, and art is an expression of life – and life is there to be experienced.

Forget traditional exhibitions, standard cover shows, sitting in the grandstand waiting for the show to begin. Instead, imagine something different.

Gutsy, interactive arts where the unexpected collides and you're invited to be part of the show. After all, art is meant to enthrall, make you think, push your limits and bring people together.

And extraordinary art creates unforgettable experiences.

The arts are for all – for community, with community. No one is left behind. We create quality experiences for everyone and create safe spaces for people to share their stories, explore their identities, cultures, sexualities and genders. We tell local stories, real stories via original works. We give voice to all perspectives, and we're not afraid to make a stand.

So join us. Express yourself. Share your story. Belt out that chorus.

Colour each day with creativity and share your culture, so others can find common ground and understand what makes you, you.

Creativity isn't a competition, it's part of being human. Let's create a culture of collaboration and learning. Because we're stronger, louder and harder to ignore when we stand together and lift each other up.

Join the cultural revolution.
